

Power Move #5

A "Prime" Example of Free Money

Class is in Session: Pay Attention, Get Paid

We know your schedule is packed tighter than an AP student-athlete's backpack! Between the end of day school bell and prep for tomorrow, you don't have time for complicated financial gymnastics. That's why we're bringing you an "easy win" that requires less effort than making Canvas grade a multiple-choice quiz.

The "Amazon Prime" Power Move

If you're already an Amazon Prime member, you're sitting on a goldmine of rewards you might be ignoring. By signing up for the Amazon Prime Visa card, you can snag an immediate $150 cash bonus. Non-prime members? You still get a $50 participation trophy (in gift card form), but let's be honest—we're here for the Distinguished level rewards.

Reward Highlights for the Overachievers:

- 5% Back: On Amazon.com, Audible, Amazon Fresh, and Whole Foods.
- 5% Back: On Chase Travel (for those much-needed summer breaks!).
- 2% Back: At gas stations, restaurants, and rideshares—perfect for the commute.
- 1% Back: On everything else. Literally everywhere Visa is accepted.

Power Tip: Don't get it twisted—you can't "save" money by spending it!

Despite any feelings regarding consumption, Amazon, and Mr. Bezos's extreme wealth compared to my 31-year teaching income, I will happily accept the "free" money and benefits offered through a service I already use.

You've Got This!

You work hard for your paycheck; make sure your paycheck works hard for you. Whether it's 4:15 on a Tuesday or the first week of July, these quick power moves add up to big lifestyle wins. Remember, you aren't doing this alone—the Take10™ for Financial Fitness program is in your corner to help you get 1% better every day.
